The LEPC is organized to perform the functions of a local emergency planning committee as outlined in EPCRA and Section 112 of the Clean Air Act. The LEPC shall adopt a regular schedule of meetings and shall keep written minutes of these meetings. The LEPC may participate in other organizations involved in hazardous materials and emergency planning and response, as seems appropriate.

Article IV: Officers

The LEPC shall have a chair as a minimum and may have a first vice-chair, second vice-chair, secretary, treasurer, subcommittee chairs, and such other officers as the LEPC membership shall determine are useful. If needed, election of officers may occur at any time upon appropriate motion by any member.

Article V: Voting

A quorum shall be five members. Action, including the election of officers, shall be by majority vote of the members present.

Article VI: Finances

The LEPC may apply for grant funding as it deems appropriate. The LEPC may also solicit and accept contributions to be used for LEPC purposes. The chair shall arrange for and maintain a bank account and such other arrangements as are necessary for the application, collection and disbursement of funds.
